Roman Numerals

- Taking something that isn't easily understood and creating the potential for the viewer to gain understanding. When I became an artist I was fascinated by calligraphic artworks, before identifying the Roman numeral language as my staple. Being able to look at something and not understand it, made me want to create a language where I could write words / sentences out of numbers where each one represents a letter.

Abstract

- Each piece focuses on connecting to my roots of why I began painting in the first place. I wanted to create artwork that welcomed the feeling of being seen and loved by others. Balance and chaos go hand in hand with each piece and every one tells a story with a free flowing and strategic use of materials. The act of being free in the creation, gives the viewer a look into the energy that is captured in each piece!

Mixed Media (Car / Celebrity)

- Each piece creates a connection between my art and photography roots. To show where I once started, I connect the two with a goal of capturing a mood in the painting that is similar to the subject. The use of these images in my work, is an opportunity to connect with the interests of the viewer. I create works by utilizing digital design to alter images that connect with the painting it is intended for. Each one is finished in a preserving / "glass like" epoxy resin finish.

Trees / Gates / Floral

- Each tree is a symbol of growth. Whether that be personal, career, spiritual, financial, social, physical or intellectual. I consider growth a responsibility of those courageous enough to seek it out, recognize it and take action. Growth can be a leading contributor to the further understanding of ourselves as individuals and the lives we live. For my life, growing from the person I was yesterday, is what creates the foundation for today.

Chess Boards

- The idea of thinking steps ahead is something that was overlooked for me when I started playing this game. I was able to bridge the two for myself, living in the moment and thinking steps ahead. An opportunity to connect my artwork with a game that has been around since the beginning of time. It further activated a simple idea that holds universal aspects when creating. Displaying the use of both custom framing skills and detailed painting.
